Shields

There are three different shields in the program. Each shield represents the state that the program is in.

	Green shield represents that everything is fine.

	Orange shield represents a smaller problem, for example a failed file during the backup.

	Red shield represents a critical fault, for example that the all the disk space on the licences is in use and more disk space is needed.